

GALA DINNER

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 2009

The Young Professionals' Committee (YPC) of Consulting Engineers of Manitoba (CEM) will officially launch with a gala dinner on Thursday, October 1, 2009 at the Western Canada Aviation Museum. The theme will be "Into the Future".

The CEM YPC is dedicated to enhancing the growth and evolution of the consulting engineering industry by promoting and empowering the development of Young Professionals' careers within the industry.

The CEM YPC aims to provide YPs with a greater understanding of the business and CEM's role in it. This goal will be accomplished by providing networking, mentoring, educational, and career growth opportunities. YPs also have the opportunity to actively contribute and become an integral part of the industry through the CEM YPC.

SPONSORS & PARTNERS

The CEM YPC invites you to be part of this event. Invited guests will include young professionals and managers from all CEM member firms as well as their clients. The evening will provide opportunities for networking across peer groups and experience levels. After a networking reception and scrumptious meal, we will welcome Andrew Steeves, P. Eng., as our guest speaker.

Mr. Steeves is Vice-President of Administration for the ADI Group of Companies, with over twenty years of experience, including managing the Public Works Division of the ADI Fredericton office. He holds an MBA as well as an M. Eng. from the University of New Brunswick. Andrew will present information regarding Qualifications Based Selection (QBS). He will discuss what QBS means to our firms, our clients, and all of us as active members of the engineering community.

The CEM YPC offers sponsorship at multiple levels for this landmark event. Sponsors will show their support for this important initiative and benefit from the promotional opportunities it presents. Your company will be represented in promotional materials and communications, showing your active support of the development of the industry's future leaders.
